

MERIDIAN AUDIO SHOWCASES PREMIUM CI INTEGRATION

December 2024

Join Meridian at ISE 2025 in Barcelona to explore high-performance solutions, seamless integration, and transformative business opportunities.

Meridian Audio, a global leader in high-performance audio solutions, is proud to showcase its dedication to Custom Integration (CI) excellence at ISE 2025, held at Fira de Barcelona, Gran Via. Renowned for combining extreme engineering with luxury design, Meridian invites attendees to Stand 2J400, to experience firsthand how its solutions can elevate projects and accelerate business growth.

Uniquely Meridian Innovations

Meridian's solutions are designed with both integrators and end-users in mind, offering a perfect blend of technological innovation and aesthetic sophistication. With intuitive technologies that simplify installation and optimise performance, Meridian delivers effortless, premium experiences across every project.

Visitors to the stand will discover Meridian's award-winning portfolio of audio solutions, including the Ellipse Streaming Speaker. This innovative product is a complete Meridian system in a luxury and compact form, delivering exceptional sound quality in any room. Featuring Meridian's twelve unique DSP technologies, Ellipse offers straight out-of-the-box playability, multiple control options through the intuitive Meridian Control app, and seamless integration with leading streaming platforms. Whether used as a stand-alone speaker or as part of an automated smart home system, Ellipse delivers unparalleled versatility and performance, with detailed configuration options for integrator-led customization.

Meridian will also highlight its high-performance Architectural Loudspeaker range designed to deliver exceptional audio quality while blending seamlessly into any environment. Featuring models like the DSP750 and DSP730 in the Reference Series, and the DSP520.2 and DSP640.2 in the Performance Series, these speakers provide immersive sound for home cinemas and living spaces. With a shallow 100mm mounting depth, simple installation, and advanced technologies like Full Frequency Alignment (FFA) and Image Elevation, Meridian's Architectural Loudspeakers bring lifelike sound to any room with ease and elegance.

Additionally, the stand will feature real-world installation case studies, demonstrating Meridian's expertise in delivering premium audio experiences across diverse applications. Attendees can also explore Meridian's bespoke Design & Specification Service, which provides tailored solutions for even the most complex projects, including Meridian Select, offering an extensive palette of loudspeaker colour options for ultimate personalisation. Driving Success Through Partnership

"At ISE, we have the unique opportunity to demonstrate why Meridian remains a leader in high-performance audio for the CI market," says Jeremy Brown, International Sales Manager at Meridian. "We are excited to highlight not only our premium product range but also the bespoke support services and tools that empower our partners to create transformative audio experiences worldwide."

Meridian's presence at ISE 2025 also underscores its commitment to building meaningful connections with distributors, integrators, and dealers. With bespoke design services, comprehensive marketing support, and a dedicated international team, Meridian equips its partners with the resources they need to delight clients and drive business success.
